Class of the Week
Elm

Elm Class have had a fantastic start to the term and have enjoyed a busy and engaging week of learning together. In English, pupils have been exploring rhyming couplets and have loved creating their own George's Marvellous Medicine-inspired poems. Their creativity has shone through as they experimented with rhyming words and imaginative ideas.

The class are thoroughly enjoying reading George's Marvellous Medicine and have been fully engaged in the story. One of the week's highlights was making potions together, inspired by George's adventures. It was wonderful to see the pupils working collaboratively, sharing ideas, and having fun as they created their own marvellous mixtures.

Alongside their learning, pupils have continued to make a very positive start to the year socially. They have shown great acceptance and kindness towards one another as new friendships begin to form. This growing sense of teamwork and belonging has been particularly evident during PE lessons, where pupils have enjoyed playing boccia and football together. They have encouraged one another, worked cooperatively, and demonstrated excellent sportsmanship throughout.

We are incredibly proud of the positive relationships developing within Elm Class and look forward to seeing the boys continue to learn, grow, and thrive together over the coming weeks.

✏️ English Adventures Across the School! 📚🌱🐉🧪

We can't believe how quickly our pupils have settled back into school after the summer holidays. Even more impressive, it seems their writing hands haven't forgotten a thing! Across the school, pupils have been diving straight into exciting, practical activities designed to spark their imagination and inspire their writing and it's worked.

🌻 Ash Class have been enjoying The Secret Sky Garden. To bring their learning to life, they got their hands dirty making seed bombs to create their own gardens to inspire some fantastic writing.

📺 Oak Class have turned into game show enthusiasts! By watching game shows, they have been exploring how instructions work before having a go at writing their own clear and engaging step-by-step guides.

🧪 Elm Class have been immersed in the wonderful world of George's Marvellous Medicine. Pupils have been creating their own marvellous potions and concoctions to inspire some truly magical writing.

🐉 Willow Class are bringing dragons to life! From designing their own dragons to creating dragon eggs, they have been using their imaginations to develop exciting mythical creatures.

🥪 Harting Class have been tackling instructional writing by learning how to make a jam sandwich. Although I'm still convinced a Marmite sandwich would be much better!

🤠 Beacon Class have headed to infinity and beyond with Toy Story. The colourful characters have been inspiring pupils to write descriptive and imaginative characters. Who is your favourite character?

💡 Halnaker Class have been exploring the world of crazy inventions. From shoe umbrellas to baby mop onesies and finger chopsticks, pupils have been asking an important question: What annoys you, and what could you invent to solve it?

It's been wonderful to see so much creativity and yes, enthusiasm for writing in every classroom. We are excited to see where these imaginative writers go next! 🌟✍️

Well done to every pupil in Littlegreen for being a brilliant writer.
